Applicant

N.V. NUTRICIA et al.

1. The applicant is hereby notified that this International Preliminary Examining Authority transmits herewith the international preliminary examination report and its annexes, if any, established on the international application.
2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.
3. Where required by any of the elected Offices, the International Bureau will prepare an English translation of the report (but not of any annexes) and will transmit such translation to those Offices.
4. REMINDER

The applicant must enter the national phase before each elected Office by performing certain acts (filing translations and paying national fees) within 30 months from the priority date (or later in some Offices) (Article 39(1)) (see also the reminder sent by the International Bureau with Form PCT/IB/301).

Where a translation of the international application must be furnished to an elected Office, that translation must contain a translation of any annexes to the international preliminary examination report. It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 35(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form,
- ☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.

- ☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages;
- ☐ the claims, Nos.;

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY

International application No. PCT/NL03/00448

EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEETRe Item V*Patentability

The claims 15 - 17 also refer to a therapeutic method.

These claims may not be patentable for some states, or group of states, contracted within the PCT, such as the EPC.

Clarity (Art. 6 PCT)

Claims defined by using expressions such as "... (X) and the equivalents thereof .." is ~~generally considered to be not clear. In the present case the description provides a~~ detailed definition of what is meant by "...equivalents of ...", see p. 12.

It is considered that claim 1, in the light of the description, meets Art. 6 PCT.

Novelty (Art. 33(2) PCT)

Glycocyamine is known to be a precursor to creatine (which is used to provide energy in muscles).

Further, it is known that glycocyamine can be methylized in vivo into creatine, which results in beneficiary effects in the muscle tissue and the nervous system (see GB 696405 & EP 0532369)

However, pharmaceutical or nutritional compositions, which contain a combination of glycocyamine and protein or peptides, which contain L-serine, are new.

Inventive step (Art. 33(3) PCT)

It is known that glycocyamine can be methylized in vivo into creatine. This methylation can be supported by choline, betaine, betaine hydrate, dimethyl threine or methionine (see GB 696 405).

However, there is no indication in the relevant prior art, that the (non-essential)-amino acid L-serine could be efficiently supporting the in vivo methylation of glycocyamine to creatine.

All claims appear to be novel and inventive over the prior art, as reflected in the search report.

Industrial application is given in the application, for example as muscle performance enhancer.

INTERNATIONAL SEARCH REPORT

In international application No.
PCT/NL 03/00448Box I Observations where certain claims were found unsearchable (Continuation of item 1 of first sheet)

This International Search Report has not been established in respect of certain claims under Article 17(2)(a) for the following reasons:

1. ☒ Claims Nos.: 15 (partially) - 17 (partially) because they relate to subject matter not required to be searched by this Authority, namely:
Rule 39.1(iv) PCT - Method for treatment of the human or animal body by therapy
2. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they relate to parts of the International Application that do not comply with the prescribed requirements to such an extent that no meaningful International Search can be carried out, specifically:
3. ☐ Claims Nos.:
because they are dependent claims and are not drafted in accordance with the second and third sentences of Rule 6.4(a).

Box II Observations where unity of invention is lacking (Continuation of item 2 of first sheet)

This International Searching Authority found multiple inventions in this International application, as follows:

1. ☐ As all required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this International Search Report covers all searchable claims.
2. ☐ As all searchable claims could be searched without effort justifying an additional fee, this Authority did not invite payment of any additional fee.
3. ☐ As only some of the required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant, this International Search Report covers only those claims for which fees were paid, specifically claims Nos.:
4. ☐ No required additional search fees were timely paid by the applicant. Consequently, this International Search Report is restricted to the invention first mentioned in the claims; it is covered by claims Nos.:

Remark on Protest

- ☐ The additional search fees were accompanied by the applicant's protest.
- ☐ No protest accompanied the payment of additional search fees.
